

Jean-Jacques Garaud

Head of Roche Research and Early Development
Member of the Enlarged Roche Corporate Executive Committee

Previous Role: Jean-Jacques Garaud has been Global Head of Pharma Development and Chief Medical Officer in Basel, Switzerland, since January 2007. He was responsible for leading an organization of more than 6000 employees with the challenge of developing clinically differentiated medicines.

Background/Education:

Novartis Pharma, Switzerland Global Head of Exploratory Development	2005
Novartis Pharma, USA Head of Clinical Research and Development, Global Medical Affairs	2002
Schering-Plough Research Institute, USA Executive Vice President of Worldwide Clinical Research and Clinical Operations/Research Information Systems	2001
Schering-Plough Research Institute, USA Senior Director of Anti-Infectives, Clinical Research	1992
Rhone-Poulenc Rorer, France Group Medical Director, Clinical Development in areas of Anti-Infectives, AIDS and Allergy/Immunology	1990
Marion Merrell Dow, UK and Canada Clinical Research Physician	1985
Claude Bernard Hospital, France Assistant Attaché, Infectious Diseases and Intensive Care Medicine	1981-85
University of Paris, France Diploma in Tropical Medicine, Public Health & Epidemiology	1982
University of Paris, France M.D.	1981