

Richard Scheller

Genentech Research & Early Development
Executive Vice President
Member of the Enlarged Roche Corporate Executive Committee

Previous Role: Executive Vice President: Research and Chief Scientific Officer Genentech. In this role, Richard Scheller was responsible for setting strategy for Genentech's research and drug discovery activities. He joined Genentech in 2001 as SVP, Research, was named EVP of Research in September 2003 and appointed Chief Scientific Officer in 2008.

Background/Education:

Stanford University Medical Center, Howard Hughes Medical Institute, Investigator	1994
Stanford University, Department of Molecular and Cellular Physiology & Department of Biological Sciences, Professor	1993
Stanford University Medical Center, Howard Hughes Medical Institute, Associate Investigator	1990
Stanford University, Department of Molecular and Cellular Physiology & Department of Biological Sciences, Associate Professor	1990
Stanford University, Department of Biological Sciences, Associate Professor	1987
Stanford University, Department of Biological Sciences, Assistant Professor	1982
Columbia University, College of Physicians and Surgeons, Molecular Neurobiology, Postdoctoral Fellow	1981
California Institute of Technology, Division of Biology Postdoctoral Fellow	1980
California Institute of Technology, Division of Chemistry, Ph.D.	1975-1980
University of Wisconsin, Madison, Department of Biochemistry, B.S.	1971-1975